

Singapore American School

a creative refresh gets everyone on board for new learning.

Singapore American School's pirate-themed, flexible learning space - what is there not to love? No wonder this first-grade crew are swashbuckling their way through the curriculum.

Teacher, Sarah Absolom-Cole has taught at Singapore American School for 16 years. She's felt incredibly lucky with her learning space and resources but was conscious the traditional student mindset of 'this is my spot', had given way to a new generation of learners adopting flexible learning styles.

Sarah's vision was "to transform a traditional classroom into a truly amazing learning space to engage students daily." It also had to keep pace with 21st century pedagogical practices and modern teaching tools such as tablets.

"my students are really engaged in their learning."

iPads are key tools in this modern learning environment.

The pirate theme has no boundaries in this inspiring classroom.

Whiteboard Lotus Tables provide space for ideas to flow in collaborative work.

“I absolutely love my modern learning environment.”

Sarah Absolom-Cooles - Teacher

Lotus Tables arranged around a central Whiteboard Table are perfect for working with small groups in the middle, and still seeing what's going on around the room.
